SHOWDOWN IS COMING TODAY ON FILIBUSTER

Half Dozen Senators, Mostly Republicans, Hold Balance of Power In Vital Issue

MANY BILLS HELP UP

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—A showdown is expected today in the Senate over the filibuster.

Half a dozen senators, most of them Republicans, hold the balance of power in the apparently evenly-matched battle between administration Democrats and Dixie lawmakers.

The fate not only of the right to filibuster but possibly President Truman's entire civil rights program hung in the balance.

The southerners, a minority group, sought to retain the traditional filibuster because it enabled them to block by unlimited debate legislation they don't have enough votes to defeat otherwise.

It was particularly important this year, because they face a bitter fight over the president's civil rights bills—anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and others.

The filibuster started Feb. 28 when a motion was introduced to bring up a bill that would end debate if two-thirds of senators voting so decided.

Now in its eleventh day, the filibuster has been about that motion, not about the bill itself.

In a ruling yesterday, Vice President Barkley decided that a two-thirds vote of those present is enough to limit the filibuster on the debate that has been going on over Lucas' motion to bring up the rules change.

Today's first test centered on a vote on Barkley's ruling. Next in line: A vote on the filibuster itself, if Barkley is upheld.

But if Barkley is overruled, then the filibuster goes on. Both sides claimed enough votes to win, but indications pointed to such a close division of votes that probably half a dozen senators, who did not say in advance how they would vote, held the balance of power.

Meanwhile, important legislation is piling up, without action of the filibuster in the Senate.

Number one is rent control, not only stalemated in the Senate but facing tough Republican opposition in the House.

Republicans, grabbing for control, sought a test vote on the House floor. They were trying to slash through a 90-day rent control limit instead of the two years asked by President Truman and the 15-month deal approved by a House committee.

But Democratic leaders predicted they had enough votes to squeeze through the 15-month extension plan which they claim will keep rents from jumping "30 to 500 per cent." The increases, they say, will come rent controls die March 31 as they will unless a bill is passed.

The Senate banking subcommittee also studied rent curbs, and called as its first witness Mayor O'Dwyer of New York.

The controls will not be effective unless both houses pass the bill.

Truman And Staff Enjoy Good Loaf

Key West, Fla., Mar. 11.—(AP)—President Truman and his staff fell under the lazy spell of this southernmost vacation city today. Everybody loafed.

The courier plans came in and official work was handled, then it was time to relax again.

In Washington the administration lieutenants began their efforts to cut short the southern filibuster in the Senate.

There, the South Atlantic pact was being whipped into final shape.

The president kept in touch with these developments by long distance telephone with the White House.

His press secretary, Charles G. Ross, flew down from Washington yesterday, fresh out of a hospital where he underwent an operation on his arm.

G. O. P. Leaders Planning To Outlast Demo. Talkathon; Gas Tax Hearings Involved

Harrisburg, March 11.—(AP)—Unhurried Republican senators laid plans today to outlast a threatened Democratic filibuster on Gov. James H. Duff's $458,000,000 tax program.

Democrats promised a talkathon starting Monday unless a public hearing is called on a proposal to increase the gasoline tax from four to five cents.

"I want to see that they have all the time they need," said Sen. John W. Walker, GOP floor leader. He said day and night senate sessions are planned starting next Monday.

The threatened filibuster hinged on a decision by the Senate highways committee on whether or not to hold the gas tax hearing demanded yesterday by Sens. William J. Lane (D-Wash.) and John M. Halluska (D-Cambria).

Walker disclosed Chairman John G. Snowden (R-Lynchburg) told him he planned to poll the highways committee Monday morning on the question.

If the hearing request is turned down Lane and Halluska said they would invoke a constitutional provision that requires full reading of all proposed laws. Since some measures are hundreds of pages in length, such a maneuver would stall the legislative machinery indefinitely.

In an initial move to cope with the Democratic filibuster threat, Walker called for a Senate session at 9:30 a. m. Monday. Monday sessions usually start at 4 p. m.

Tuesday's session, he added, would start at 6 a. m., recess at noon for lunch and continue until 5 p. m.

"Then we will return for another session at night," the GOP leader added. "They also want to talk about the soft drink tax and we'll give them that opportunity, too."

"I believe this bill deserves more of the sunlight of truth than has been cast upon it," said Duff.

A filibuster would hold up action on the tax program and companion legislation creating state borrowing powers for a $187,000,000 construction program. They are in the debating stage on the Senate agenda.

At the same time, Sen. John H. Dent, minority floor leader, said the Democratic bloc of 35 senators planned to hold a public hearing of its own on Tuesday.

"AXIS SALLY" PLANS TO ASK A NEW TRIAL

Attorney For Mildred Gillars To Fight Treason Conviction To Highest Court

FACES A LONG TERM

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—Mildred E. (Axis Sally) Gillars was convicted of treason yesterday but her punishment probably won't be known for a week or more.

A mixed jury found her guilty of broadcasting propaganda for the wartime German radio.

The maximum possible sentence is death in the electric chair; the minimum, five years in prison, a $10,000 fine and loss of her American citizenship.

Even in advance of sentencing, Miss Gillars' attorney served notice that he is not through fighting.

His first step, said James J. Laughlin, will be to file a motion asking Federal Judge Edward M. Quinn to set aside the verdict and order a new trial. Laughlin has five days in which to take this action. If his motion is denied, Laughlin told reporters, he will carry the case to higher courts.

Miss Gillars, 48, who tearfully swore from the witness stand that she always loved this country and never intended to betray it, heard the verdict without visible emotion.

Attired in the same black dress she had worn almost every day of the long trial (it started Jan. 24), Miss Gillars stood grimly erect as the jury filed in at 4:58 p. m. yesterday.

Her expression did not seem to change when the foreman, Henry G. Davis, Jr., said in a low voice that the jury had found her guilty, thus rejecting her story that she was forced to do propaganda work for the Nazis.

Tears rolled down Mrs. Herrick's cheeks. A paper cup slipped from her hand, spilling water on her tan suit.

"I don't see how they will be able to sleep," she said of the jurors. Her husband, Edward R. Herrick, led her from the courtroom.

Miss Gillars first was taken to a small lock-up in the courtroom basement. She paced nervously, smoking a cigarette down to a stub. A reporter made his way through the crowd to the cell block and asked her comment on the verdict.

"I wish those who judged me would be willing to risk their lives for America as I did," she replied. Miss Gillars seemed well-mannered, anxious to talk more, but a marshal ended that.

A few minutes later, surrounded by marshals, she was taken to a small black patrol wagon for the trip back to the district jail.

Regarding the announcement the Oil City Derrick says:

The Seep Agency announced no change in the price for Corning crude oil, which is not classified as Pennsylvania grade. Also no announcement was made for Zanesville grade, which the Seep Agency does not purchase.

However, a buyer of the Zanesville grade is expected to announce today a reduction in the price of that Ohio-produced oil.

The Pennsylvania and Wolf's Head Oil Refining Co. of Oil City, Va. Service Co. of Tusculum, Va., United Refining Co. of Warren, Pa., Elk Refining Co. of Charleston, W. Va., and the Waverly Oil Works of Pittsburgh announced last night similar reductions in the price of Pennsylvania grade crude oil which they purchase.

The officials of the Quaker State Oil Refining Corp. of Oil City, Tidewater Associated of Bradford and Pennsylvania Refining Co. of Karns City, could not be reached last night, but they are expected to meet the new postings.

W. J. Brundred, president of the Brundred Oil Corp. of Oil City, stated last night that his firm would make an announcement today regarding its posted prices.

In his statement Hanks said that (Turn to Page Eight)

Rhodes, March 11.—(AP)—Israel and Trans-Jordan signed a formal cease fire agreement today for the entire front in Palestine.

The agreement is a necessary prelude to a full armistice. It pledges Israel and her neighbor across the Jordan not to attack one another.

There was no immediate indication of the effect of this upon the Arab situation. United Nations observers were intensifying a check into reports from Amman, Trans-Jordan's capital, that Israeli troops were attacking in the area between the Dead Sea and the Trans-Jordan Red Sea port of Aqaba. Israel has denied this.

Reports from Amman quoted the Trans-Jordan government as saying early today that fighting still was in progress in the Aqaba area.

The cease fire agreement signed here does not include the triangle of eastern Palestine, the Nablus-Tulkarm-Jenin area, where Iraqi troops were stationed. U. N. officials here still awaited a reply from Iraq whether Trans-Jordan's delegation is authorized to negotiate in Iraq's behalf.

The Iraqi premier said in Baghdad Monday the Trans-Jordan delegates did not represent Iraq at the talks.

No map accompanied the agreement, but it is understood that it freezes the present lines in Palestine.

The Arab Legion holds the old walled city area of Jerusalem, and the Jews the modern city. The Trans-Jordan Arab Legion controls the area east of Jerusalem and the Trans-Jordan frontier.

The cease-fire agreement, ordinarily just a formal prelude to an armistice, took on increased importance in the light of Trans-Jordan's complaints that a strong Israeli force has been on the move in the Aqaba area and had to be "stopped" by Arab Legion troops.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN CRAWFORD COUNTY

Meadville, March 11.—(AP)—William Eddy, 75, of nearby Springboro, was killed today in the collision of his car and a passenger train at a Springboro crossing. Eddy was en route with milk to a Springboro dairy plant. He is survived by his widow and two daughters.

Slash in Price Of Penn'a Crude Oil To $3.75 Barrel Announced By Seep Agency

Bradford, March 11.—(AP)—The Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency of South Penn. Oil Co. Thursday night announced reductions of 25 to 32 cents a barrel on the price of Pennsylvania Grade crude oil.

It was the third cut made by the agency in as many months. The new prices go into effect today.

George J. Hanks, South Penn. president, cited over-production and a decrease in domestic and export demand for refined products as reason for the lowered prices.

The price of Bradford and Allegheny district oil was reduced 25 cents to $3.75 a barrel. It sold for $5 a barrel three months ago. Other prices: Pennsylvania grade oil in Southwest Pennsylvania pipelines, $3.29 a barrel, down 31 cents; Pennsylvania Grade in Eureka Co. lines $3.23, down 32 cents; Buckeye Pennsylvania oil in Buckeye Co. lines $3.23 down 32 cents.

FATAL CRASH ON ROUTE 6 BELOW IRVING

Miss Harriet Smutz, 75, died at Warren General Hospital; Three Injured

CAR BADLY DAMAGED

A prominent resident of Tidououte, Miss Harriet Smutz, 75, died at Warren General Hospital last night at 11:27 o'clock as the result of injuries suffered in a one-car accident on the Warren-Tidououte road. Three other Tidououte women were injured, one of them seriously enough to require hospitalization.

Miss Smutz was the fourth person to die as the result of a traffic accident on Warren county highways this year.

The accident occurred at 5:30 p. m. yesterday when the machine operated by Mrs. Isabel Dunn, 31, of Tidououte, ran off the highway four miles south of the Irving overhead and struck a four-foot deep drainage ditch. The driver told police she was forced off the highway onto the berm by a northbound coal truck.

It was snowing at the time the accident and the pavement was covered with a couple inches of slush.

Miss Smutz suffered fracture of both legs, multiple laceration bruises and shock, and had several of her teeth knocked out.

Undergoing treatment in Tidououte hospital today is Miss Laura Smutz, aged about 70, sister of the dead woman. She suffered a fractured nose, multiple lacerations and bruises. Her condition today was reported "good."

Treated at the accident scene by a physician was the driver, Mrs. Dunn, who suffered a bruise on her head, and another passenger, Mrs. Ralph Smutz, who suffered bruises.

Damage to the car, a 1935 Chevrolet, was estimated at $125. Coroner Ed C. Lowrey said it would issue a certificate of accidental death, and that no inequity would be held.

Miss Smutz was born in Tidououte and had resided there all her life. She took an active part in community life, especially in Women's Club work and the Children's Aid Society. In recent years she had been confined to her home much of the time because of illness. She attended the Presbyterian church.

Probe Into Deshoro Runs Into A Snag

Harrisburg, March 11.—(AP)—Attempts by the commonwealth to regain possession of the Deshoro Hospital at Butler today ran into a Democratic road block.

Sen. Samuel G. Neff (D-Beaver) said he will oppose any efforts by the state to regain sole control of the hospital until western Pennsylvania veterans have "adequate hospital facilities."

"I shall be against the state doing anything until we have that kind of an agreement," Neff asserted.

A Senate investigation committee is now studying the proposed sale of the state-owned institution to the U. S. Veterans' Administration. The investigation was started after the Senate decided the price to be paid for the structure was "inadequate."

A U. S. district court at Pittsburgh recently fixed the price at $2,512,187 in condemnation proceedings. The building was erected years ago as a tuberculosis sanatorium but was never equipped for that purpose.

Motorists Urged To Speed Registrations

Harrisburg, March 11.—(AP)—Otto F. Messner, acting revenue secretary, has urged motorists to speed up their motor vehicle registrations.

The deadline for renewals is Thursday, March 31. Messner said that although last-minute congestion is inevitable there will be no extension beyond that date.

He said the department has only 21 more working days to handle 1,255,762 remaining tags, an average of 61,227 daily.

FALL PROVES FATAL

Pittsburgh, March 11.—(AP)—L. H. Mahoney, 45, who suffered a skull fracture last Thursday when his car skidded and hit a Bigelow Blvd. utility pole, died quietly today in West Penn Hospital.

Still Time to Mail In Your Pledge For The Red Cross

"Have you given to the Red Cross?"

This is a question many might ask themselves and their neighbors on the street over this week end. For, there are many, many persons in Warren and throughout the county who have not yet done so.

There is still time to mail in your pledge card and check to Red Cross Headquarters. Or, if you did not receive an official pledge card to make a contribution by mail or leave it with any bank or branch bank in Warren.

Yesterday's cash and pledges, received at Red Cross Headquarters, totaled but $2,120.50. This means the campaign for $13,825.00 is but very little past the half way mark. Here's the picture:

$6,461.64 Through Wednesday noon
2,120.50 Through Thursday night
$8,582.14

Often people are heard to say at the time of disaster or calamity: "Oh, if I could only do something to help in relief." You can do "something." Now! How much do you want to do?

Late Winter Storm Sweeps Wide Section Of The Nation

By The Associated Press

Fresh blankets of snow carpeted a wide area of the country today from the Missouri Ozarks to northern New England.

The late winter storm moved into the eastern section yesterday, sweeping across midwest states. Falls measured up to seven inches in parts of Ohio and ranged from seven to nine inches in southeastern and central Indiana.

There were heavy falls along the southern shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario.

Light snow fell over midwest states. Rain pelted an area from Virginia northeastward to Boston. In northeastern Montana, Yellowstone river floodwaters subsided. Army engineers estimated 6,000 acres were flooded and 40 farm families temporarily homeless by the stream's overflow.

Winter kept a tight grip on Pennsylvania today and refused to admit spring was a mere ten days away. Flurries of powdery snow and sub-freezing temperatures glazed highways over the state.

The weatherman predicted the mercury would drop five to ten degrees lower tonight than last night's chilly readings, with a gradual warm up scheduled to soothe the frigid citizenry tomorrow and Sunday.

Indicative of highway conditions, a big trailer truck skidded on a road and overturned in downtown Erie this morning. No one was hurt. Four to five inches of snow was measured there.

Valentine A. Gubitchev, the Russian indicted yesterday with Judith Coplon, U. S. Justice Department employee, declared the prosecution against him was "to pursue certain aims."

"Let the defendant know if he is going to be punished without first being convicted by due process of law, he is harboring a mistaken idea."

The judge continued Gubitchev's $100,000 bail and declined to accept the statement of the suspended United Nations employee

Planning

TO BUILD OR REMODEL?

As you make your plans, think of your family's water needs. An extra bathroom or stall shower, a downstairs lavatory, laundry tubs, outlets for lawn sprinkling and car washing will mean far more to comfortable, convenient, healthful living than the cost involved.

Be sure to include all you need of the conveniences water brings. Water is so cheap that five cents a day pays for the average family's daily needs. . . . Be sure, too, to provide for automatic heating of water in your building plans. Hot water is a household blessing you can't afford to be without.

Large Crowd At Betty Lee Spring Show

An enthusiastic crowd of fascinated spectators attended the Betty Lee spring fashion show last evening, when 15 lovely models drew a big stare as they displayed the new look for 1947.

From trim cotton suits to dashing creations by the famed McMillen; from casual tweed suits to elegant dress-up gabardines; from happy prints to sophisticated dressy crepes in dresses, the fashion picture was complete. Trim fitted coats of full flaring tweeds were also featured.

The charming models did full justice to the dreamy dance frocks in crisp dotted Swiss organdies or sweeping starched nets. Harper's Bazaar, Vogue, Mademoiselle, Seventeen and Life came to Warren and came to life, as costume after costume received well deserved applause. Famous Names were stressed by Betty Rice who officiated as fashion commentator.

The Betty Lee spring opening fashion show was broadcast from 8:00 until 9:30 over WNAE-FM for the benefit of those who were unable to be on the spot.

During the evening 24 gardenias were awarded to the same number of Warren people who submitted to a brief interview and one lucky spectator went home with an exquisite orchid. Flowers were presented by the popular Virg-Ann Flower Shop.

All who attended this unusual program went home satisfied that they had enjoyed a wonderful evening and it's highly probable that many, many ladies dreamed pleasant dreams of how they'll look this spring and summer.

HAPPY FAMILY. Tarzan and Jane, (Lex Barker and Brenda Joyce) decide Cheta the Chimp's voice is loud but not too good in a scene from Edgar Rice Burroughs' exciting "Tarzan's Magic Fountain." Amusements

Rud Abbott and Lou Costello in "Mexican Hayride" at the Library Theatre Sunday—Monday—Tuesday

Comedians Bud Abbott and Lou Costello literally take their legion of fun-loving fans for a riotous ride in their newest and by far their most entertaining Universal-International comedy, "Mexican Hayride", which opens Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Library Theatre.

Featured in the film's strong supporting cast are Virginia Grey, in the role of a feminine torador; John Hubbard as an American diplomat; and Luba Malina, the latter femme menace recruited from the original New York cast of "Mexican Hayride" for her film debut with Abbott and Costello.

Outset of the comedy finds Lou Costello arriving in Mexico City in pursuit of a swindler. Bud Abbott portrays the crook who, having sold Lou honey oil well stock in Iowa, also left the States with the rotund comic's fiancée, played by Miss Grey.

To Costello's chagrin, he discovers that the girl he had planned to marry is now billed in Mexico City as "Montana," feminine torador.

Comical highlights of the film include a burlesque bull-ring "chase" sequence involving Abbott and Costello and pursuing law officers. Miss Malina handles solo vocal on the Jack Brooks-Walter Scharf song hit, "Is It Yes, Or Is It No?" while performing a burlesque samba with Costello.

PARENTS INVITED

Parents of Russell eighth grade pupils have been invited to have lunch in the cafeteria and visit the school on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the last in the series of parent-visiting days. Mrs. Leo Sadler is chairman and reservations should be made with her.

Sylvania Net Is Up 52 Per Cent For 1948

Net income of Sylvania Electric Products Inc. for 1948 was the largest of any year in the company's history, reaching $3,823,382, an increase of 52 per cent over 1947, it was disclosed in the annual report being mailed to stockholders this week.

Sales rose to $99,347,751, a 3.8 per cent increase over the $95,715,638 sales of 1947.

Earnings per share were increased to $2.84 on the 1,206,550 shares outstanding at the end of the year, as compared with $2.10 per share on the 1,006,550 shares outstanding at the end of 1947.

Current assets rose from $45,213,738 to $50,094,854 and were more than three times current liabilities of $16,254,073.

Most significant last year was the expansion of the company's cathode ray tube manufacturing capacity, production at the end of the year being at the rate of 500,000 tubes annually. Substantial investment was made in facilities and working capital for this product. It is estimated that total addition to plant for manufacture of the tubes will require $5,000,000 for 1948 and 1949.

The new plants to manufacture television tubes were purchased last year, one at Ottawa, Ohio, which went into production in December and the other at Seneca Falls, New York, which is expected to start production this spring.

Due mainly to expansion in the television field, Sylvania's sales forecast for 1949 is substantially higher than last year. It is estimated that television sets and tubes for television will represent about one-third of the company's total sales for this year.

The company believes it has the opportunity to take an even more important place in the television set market than it has had with radio sets.

MacKenzie's Column

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

If the Molotov mystery presages a shift in Russian foreign policy, this may be due in large degree to the fact that the nations of western Europe are showing a steadily growing confidence in the future.

It would be going too far to say that these harrassed countries have lost their fear of untoward contingencies. But they are demonstrating faith that they can deal with aggression if it should develop.

This faith undoubtedly is based primarily on the leadership and strength of America. Linked with that, of course, is the courage inspired by the success thus far of the Marshall plan in rehabilitating a great host of countries. Most of these states were so shattered by war that they could neither defend themselves nor, in some cases, feed themselves adequately.

Striking evidence of this lift in morale is seen in the attitudes of Norway and Denmark towards the highly controversial North Atlantic Alliance. Both these countries had been warned to steer clear of the Atlantic pact being forged by America, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

Yet Norway has rejected Russia's offer of a non-aggression pact and has joined the Washington negotiations for the Atlantic treaty. She defended her right to decide her own security problems, and told Moscow a non-aggression pact wasn't necessary since both countries were members of the United Nations.

Meanwhile Danish Foreign Minister Rasmussen is scheduled to leave for Washington tomorrow to seek "the best possible basis for Denmark's final attitude" towards the Atlantic pact. Diplomatic observers interpreted this as indicating that Denmark finally had decided to play ball with the west, although there has been no official announcement to this effect.

Norway's attitude puts her in a delicate position—does it? Any war, on January 29 Russia warned her Scandinavian neighbor not to join the Atlantic Alliance.

Still Norway is going ahead, showing confidence and determination.

Among the major security tasks of the western allies is that of providing a fool-proof defense against any such submarine menace as that with which the Germans all but defeated them in the two World Wars.

One of England's foremost newspapers, the Manchester Guardian, calls attention to this in connection with the current debate on British naval estimates in the House of Commons. The Guardian points to two vital defense problems:

1. To see that all reasonable steps are taken to ensure that the sea links between American and Western Europe, and between America and the Near East, can't be cut.
2. To make sure that the Royal Navy and the U. S. Navy are working hand in glove, and that neither will find itself engaged in major sea warfare without the other at its side.

Valve-in-Head - and Fireball too!

While shown in red, as illustrated, available in extra cost.

It seems that valve-in-head engine design is becoming quite the thing, now that gasolines are stepping up in octane rating and higher compression ratios begin to be worth while.

Well, that's dandy as far as Buick is concerned.

For more than forty-five years, Buick engineers have been working with, developing and learning all about valve-in-head engine design.

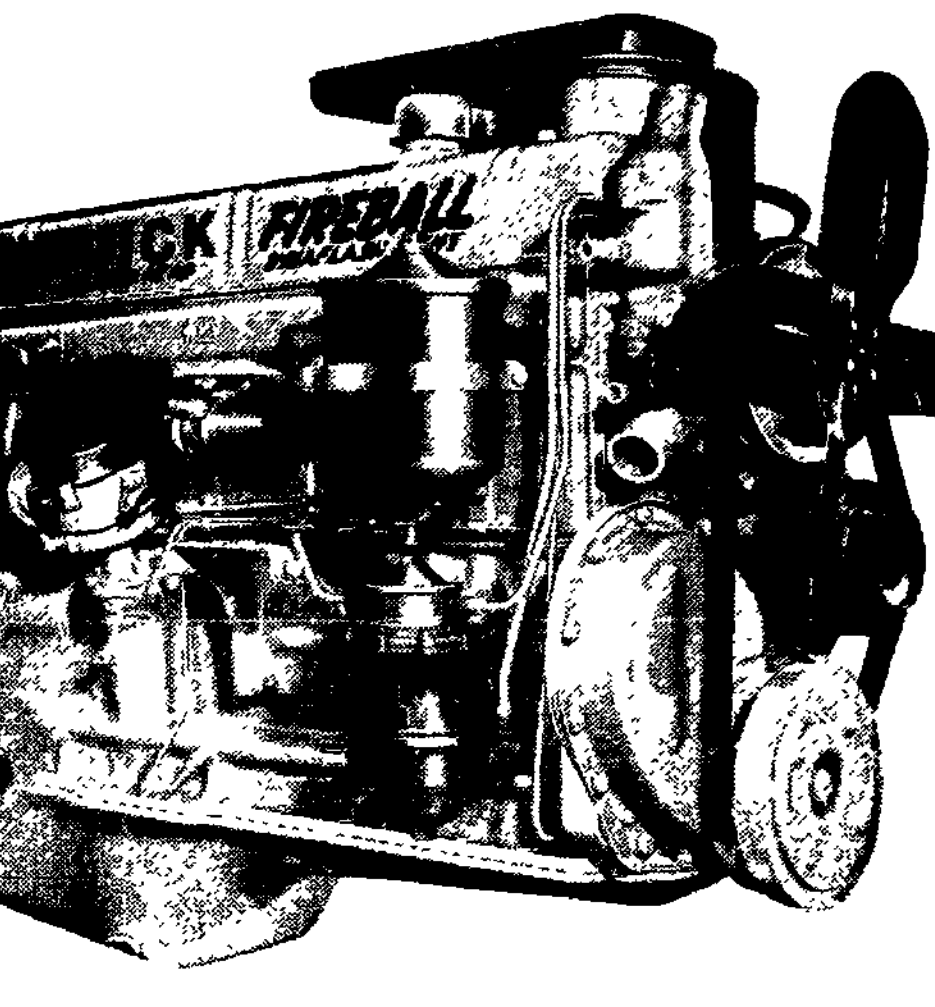

So quite some time ago Buick applied a principle, possible only in valve-in-head design, which still remains a Buick exclusive.

It is Fireball design — and it's an interesting engineering story.

It comes from a specially shaped piston, designed to roll each fuel charge into a compact, whirling, ball-shaped mass. It goes a step beyond high-compression ratios, because it means better mixing of fuel — and so better burning.

Result: More good from each fuel charge. A touch more life, pep, ginger. More of that happy, satisfying feel of power and zip that give Buick its good name as a performer.

So remember, as more and more cars climb on the valve-in-

Acknowledgement

Just in time for the party arranged by the Warren County Girl Scout Council in celebration of the 37th anniversary of Girl Scouting in America, comes grateful acknowledgment of the receipt of a large gift of toys and other articles sent by local Scouts to Our Chalet in Adelboden, Switzerland. The toys, which represented the work of Warren county girls in their 1948 Juliette Low Christmas Project, were sent with the hope they might reach their destination by "Thinking Day", February 22, so designated because it is the birthday anniversary of both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, founders of Scouting, and a wonderful time for Scouts all over the world to be thinking of each other.

The letter, addressed to Mrs. William Glassman, former Juliette Low chairman in Warren County Council, is dated March 2 and speaks for itself:

"These last ten days a steady stream of packages has been arriving at our Chalet containing all the charming toys which were made by your Girl Scouts. We were so thrilled unpacking them, and had great fun with all the lovely animals. As there is actually no Girl Scout troop in Adelboden, I proceeded in the following way. There are a good many families living around the Chalet with many children, so I distributed some of the toys to them, and you should have seen their pleasure, they were just gloriously happy. Then I sent a box full to the children's ward to the hospital in Frutigen which is the next village to Adelboden, and there too the children were absolutely thrilled. The last lot was given to one of the teachers in the village to be distributed amongst the youngsters there, and I am sure you will get some letters from them. But I am afraid they will write in their own language, which in this part is Swiss German. But I hope you will find somebody to have them translated.

"The population around the Chalet consists mostly of peasants who have a pretty hard life. But they are happy to live here and would not change with any city, and if you could see the beautiful scenery, you would understand it. They are also rather poor and have big families, so the toys were all the more welcome to them. Will you please thank your troops for their lovely idea, they can be sure that they have brought a lot of joy and happiness into the lives of many children. I hope that one or the other of your girls will be able to visit us one day out here. With best thanks and greetings, In Scouting, Falk".

Stein's Symphony of Spring Fashion Show Well Attended

Hundreds of people braved a stormy night to see Stein's Symphony of Spring Fashion Show, held in the store last evening from 7:30 to 9:30. From the attendance and comments it was one of the most successful style shows ever put on in this area.

The windows were beautifully trimmed in keeping with the theme of the show, one window showing a miniature white and gold piano and violin, and the other a huge blue and white bass violin. Over these props were draped lovely fur scarves, each painted in pastel crayon, depicting ballet dancers against a background of musical notes. Navy suits and coats were shown on the models in one window and pastel suits in the other. Huge baskets of mixed flowers completed the display. The windows were planned by Mr. Kenneth Churchill, who formerly was display manager for some of the largest stores in Pittsburgh.

The interior of the store was trimmed with pastel crayon banners, trimmed with satin bows, ex-

Ashton, on the other hand, was pictured as a poor boy who had been influenced by "bad companions."

According to Ashton's account, the train robbery was a spur-of-the-moment affair that sprang from an idea of sticking up the train's steward. The two had gotten into argument with the steward about a drink that had been served them on the dining car.

The pair fled here by bus. They went to the pawnshop to get clothes. Ramsdell reached for his gun when police entered. But Jomax shot first. Ashton surrendered without resistance.

It was just 15 hours after the train robbery.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has filed train robbery charges against both men. Ashton is being held under $50,000 bond.

ERIE HAS VICTIM OF Lonely Heart Racket

Erie, March 11—(P)—One of the women who died on a honeymoon with postal lover Raymond Fernandez has been identified as a former Wesleyville high school teacher.

She was Mrs. Jane Wilson Thompson, who spent part of 1947 in Spain with Fernandez—and died there.

The cause of her death has not been certainly explained. Fernandez told Michigan police she was killed in a train wreck. The American consul at Madrid reported she died of an intestinal ailment.

Another of Fernandez' friends, Mrs. Myrtle Young of Arkansas, also died of intestinal ills.

Mrs. Thompson was a widow of 50 when she went to Spain with Fernandez in 1947. She had been living with his mother in New York, working as a dietitian in Presbyterian Hospital.

Approximately 100,000 solar photographs were taken during the scientific study of the May, 1948 solar eclipse.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

WHEN a Navy veteran sophomore at Pennsylvania State College found he couldn't keep on with his part-time job and get his studying done he gave up the job for baby-sitting.

"I haven't had any trouble with my school work since then," he says proudly.

And yet a lot of housewives who grow mentally lazy while their children are young claim they just never have a chance for any kind of mental stimulation.

They blame the fact that they've let their minds grow rusty into their being nothing more than "glorified baby-sitters."

Well if a 30-year-old vet can study for a college degree while baby-sitting, why can't wives improve their minds, too.

NOT BRAIN-WEARY

SURE, they're tired at the end of the day when the kids are finally in bed and the house is quiet enough for some serious reading and thinking.

But they're body-weary—no brain-weary. Putting their mind to work while their tired muscles relax might do a lot to get the out of the "My-mind-is-getting-so-rusty" mood.

It's easier for a woman to blame the children for letting her mind go to seed, than to make an effort to keep informed, to keep learning to get new stimulating ideas.

But all over the country big school and college students are combining the job of baby-sitting with the job of studying.

If they can do it, so can the housewife if she really wants to get on educating herself.

general theme "The Gospel of the Grace of God" speaking on the subject "Good News About God." Warren Moose Lodge To Mark 40th Anniversary

History of the Lodge Reflects Steady Increase of Members

The 40th anniversary celebration of the Warren Lodge of Moose, No. 109, scheduled for next Saturday and Sunday, March 19 and 20, marks another big milestone in the colorful history of the local order.

The Warren Lodge was organized in 1909 by Joseph Walsh of Pittsburgh and W. A. Walker of Warren.

The charter went into effect on April 10 of that year, with 200 members in the charter class.

The initiation and installation services were held in the Harugard Hall in the Allen block. W. R. McKimney was the first Governor and George DeForest the first secretary.

From the Harugard Hall the lodge headquarters were moved to the Odd Fellows Hall, and then to 337 Hickory street.

The membership was growing so rapidly by this time that the lodge began to look for a place where they could locate permanently. When the Warren Lodge of Elks completed their new home and moved in, the Moose rented the hall vacated by the Elks at 221 Hickory street.

Members were so well pleased with their new home that in 1920 they decided to buy the property from Mrs. Charles Crandall. The purchase price was $25,000, of which $10,000 was paid in cash and the remaining $15,000 was paid in less than two years.

Warren Lodge completed a membership drive in 1925, taking a some 200 more new members. This had been the first open charter since 1921. As more space was now needed to accommodate the growing membership, the lodge decided to completely dismantle the old building and erect a new and modern club house on the same site.

This was done during the fall of 1927 and the spring of 1928. Some $90,000 was spent in erecting the modern club house which they now occupy.

The indebtedness, which amounted to approximately $50,000 at the time of completion, has been entirely paid off, and the mortgage burned on February 21, 1943.

In addition to satisfying the mortgage on the property, four new bowling alleys have been installed, a new cocktail lounge was completed a year or two ago, and many other changes made throughout the building in keeping with the times and the steady growth of the membership.

Since the lodge was chartered, more than $75,000 has been paid to the members in sick and death benefits. In addition, some $85,000 has been contributed to Mooseheart toward the care and education of children, and additional thousands of dollars have been contributed for worthy civic and charitable purposes to help make Warren a better place to live.

Today, the Warren Lodge of Moose has a membership of more than 1,000. It has no outstanding financial obligations, and its assets total nearly $200,000. Truly, the local order ranks as one of the outstanding Moose Lodges in the state.

Home of the Warren Lodge Of Moose In Hickory Street

Shown here is the exterior of the modern home of the Warren Lodge of Moose No. 109. The club purchased the property at 221 Hickory street in 1920, and in the fall of 1927 and the spring of 1928, some $90,000 was spent in erecting the present building. The lodge home is ranked as one of the most modern and best equipped in northwestern Pennsylvania.

Over $85,000 Contributed By Local Lodge To Mooseheart

Members of the Warren Lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose are justly proud of the fact that they have contributed more than $85,000 for support of Mooseheart, famous "child city" located just west of Chicago.

Mooseheart, which represents an investment of $22,000,000, was established by the Loyal Order of Moose to care for dependent children and widows of lodge members.

There they find a happy home, loving care and perfect family life. A mother and her children are not separated, and each boy and girl is given a high school education and is taught proficiency in one or more useful vocations.

Mooseheart, founded July 27, 1913, by James J. Davis, is an estate of 1,200 acres, 35 miles west of Chicago. Title is in the Supreme Lodge of The World, Loyal Order of Moose.

In a little more than a quarter of a century Mooseheart developed from a few acres of rolling prairie to more than twelve hundred acres of parklike estate on which are included all that go to make the "City Beautiful." More than twenty-six million dollars have been expended in the development, maintenance, and operation of the Moose "child city" built on those acres.

Mooseheart has about 125 fireproof buildings of modern concrete, including a central heating and power plant, a high-school building, several large industrial shops, many fire dormitories, attractive residences, a stadium, a gymnasium, and a modern farm plant. The products from farm, garden, and dairy contribute greatly to Mooseheart's daily food requirements.

More than 4000 boys and girls have been cared for at Mooseheart and received instruction there. Of the graduates, hundreds are now in college, or have received degrees therefrom. And an even greater number of graduates have been—or are—in the service of their country.

More than 150,000 visitors annually come to Mooseheart, ten percent of whom are men and women of the educative world. The purpose of the latter is to study the Mooseheart system of child care and training, to the end that it might guide them in the classrooms of the schools and colleges under their jurisdiction.

1500 STRONG

There are some fifteen hundred lodges, Loyal Order of Moose, throughout the English-speaking world. There is an auxiliary known as the Women of the Moose, consisting of the wives, daughters, sisters and mothers of the members of the lodges. The units for women are known as chapters.

Two-Day Celebration Planned For Next Saturday and Sunday

The Warren Lodge of Moose, No. 109, cuts a big birthday cake this month—there'll be 40 candles on it.

To celebrate the anniversary, the local lodge is planning a two-day celebration next Saturday and Sunday, March 19 and 20.

Delegations from Moose lodges throughout the district will join with the Warren lodge members in the observance.

Guests of honor and principal speakers for the program will be two Past Supreme Governors of the Loyal Order of Moose, J. Jack Stoehr, of Pittsburgh, and Leo W. Ryan, of Bradford. Stoehr is now Regional Director for Moose Lodge activities in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and New Jersey.

The program will open Saturday morning with a degree team competition in which 10 teams from area lodges will compete for the championship of District 1. The first team will take the floor at 9 a. m., and others will follow at hourly intervals.

The winning team will have the honor of initiating a new class of candidates into the order on Sunday.

Stoehr and Ryan will speak at the Sunday meeting, scheduled for 3 p. m., after which a lunch will be served and dancing will be enjoyed during the evening.

Jack Stoehr Directs Moose Activities In Four States

An outstanding member of the Loyal Order of Moose will be the principal speaker for the two-day 40th anniversary celebration of the Warren Lodge of Moose, No. 109, on Saturday and Sunday, March 18 and 19.

He is Past Supreme Governor J. Jack Stoehr, of Pittsburgh, Regional Director of Moose Lodge activities for the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, and New Jersey.

His present position climaxes a long record of service to the fraternity. In 1934, Mr. Stoehr was appointed Regional Director for Ohio and West Virginia. So successful were his efforts in those states, not only in recruiting membership, but in encouraging the building of one, up to date lodge homes, promoting civic and humanitarian activities within the lodges, and raising the standard of membership, that in 1939 the greatest Moose state of all, Pennsylvania, was added to his territory. He now has approximately 400 lodges under his supervision—a tremendous job, but one that rests in strong capable hands.

Mr. Stoehr is a native of Pittsburgh, where he attended school, earning the hat business there. As a young man, he moved to Steubenville, Ohio, in 1913, to become buyer of men's hats for the leading department store there. From that business he entered the retail clothing business and operated a chain of retail clothing stores in the Ohio Valley.

As a salesman and builder of good will, he was outstanding and quite naturally became active in fraternal work early in life. He affiliated with the Loyal Order of Moose as a very young man, in 1914, and for years gave a vast amount of voluntary service to the organization in his spare time, serving as an officer and leader in his home lodge, Steubenville No. 19, and as a District Deputy Supreme Governor among lodges of the Tri-State area.

He later engaged in membership organization work in Ohio, and became District Supervisor, later Regional Director for that state, later adding West Virginia and then Pennsylvania to his territory. In May, 1941, New Jersey was added. His success as an organizer and director of field men is outstanding, and has continued so for many years.

Mr. Stoehr is also an honorary member of Canton, Ohio, Lodge No. 233, and received the honor of the Fellowship and Pillgrim Degrees in the Order. He also belongs to the Mooseheart Alumni Association, is a Past Supreme Governor of the Moose, a former Supreme Trustee, and was Secretary-Treasurer of the Regional Directors' Association of the Order. In 1929 he became the first president of the newly organized Ohio State Moose Association, sponsored under his leadership, and headed a drive for funds to build the Ohio Plaza Building at Mooseheart, the Child City of the Order of Illinois. Mr. Stoehr's friends, both in Moose circles throughout the nation and elsewhere, are numbered in the thousands.

A Popular Spot At The Moose Lodge

One of the most popular spots for members of the Warren Moose Lodge is these four modern bowling alleys which were installed in the basement rooms of the clubhouse at 221 Hickory street. The alleys have received an official sanction from the American Bowling Congress, and two tenpin leagues are operated for members. These include the 16-team Moose League for men, and the eight-team Moose Mixed League for men and women.

He is interested in all humanitarian movements. His efforts resulted in bringing to Steubenville, Ohio, local Boy Scout executive offices, and he was responsible for raising the funds for their first year of activity. He served as first President of the Boy Scout Regional territory in that area.

Mr. Stoehr and his wife, Mrs. Nelle R. Stoehr, make their home in Pittsburgh.

PRACTICAL SERVICE

Fraternalism as expressed by the Moose is intensely practical. While it adopts many of the symbols and practices of fraternalism of a by-gone age, yet these do not express the spirit of the Order. The true spirit of Moose fraternalism is expressed in fellowship from which spontaneously radiates material service both to members and their families.

HIGH STANDARDS

The fundamental philosophy of Moose service—of whatever character—to a member and his family, is this: To provide for them the difference between what they already have and what they must have, to enable them to live honorably, decently, hopefully, and courageously.

The Moose is a patriotic organization. It demands loyalty to the government and respect for its flag.

Evening Times Files Tell Of Early Beginnings Of The Warren Moose Lodge No. 109

The story of the start of the Warren Lodge of Moose is told in these newspaper clippings from the files of the Warren Evening Times published in 1909:

March 23, 1909:
"Organizer Joseph Walsh, of the Loyal Order of the Moose, is enjoying some busy days. He has been in town only since last Friday, but already has written over 50 applications. He is carefully picking his men and the order should start here under auspicious circumstances. Franklin has a lodge with a membership of 300; Oil City has 600; and Erie over 1,100 Moose in good working order. Warren promises not to be far behind in the number of new members. The order has a total membership of about 125,000."

March 30, 1909:
"The Loyal Order of Moose is catching on well in Warren and Organizer Walsh is meeting with great success in writing applications for the order. The plan is an excellent one and a fine class of men is being secured in the town. It is expected the first meeting will be held within a few weeks and the organization completed."

April 26, 1909:
"Warren Lodge No. 109 of the Loyal Order of Moose was instituted last night in the Harugari Hall by John H. Risbeck of Pittsburgh, National Organizer for the Order. For several weeks past Deputy State Organizer Joseph B. Walsh has been in the city calling upon the men of the city, interesting them in the work of the organization. So well has he performed his part that last night 150 representative men of the city faced the organizer and took the obligation. The hall was well filled and all present waxed enthusiastic over the prospects of the local lodge as the beauties of the work were unfolded and the cardinal principles explained. Organizer Walsh has written the applications of about 150 men who were unable to be present last evening, and it is safe to say that the membership here will be fully 300 when the charter closes May 12th."

"Officers were chosen as follows: Past Dictator, Clare A. Berger; Dictator, Sumner Orr; Vice Dictator, Bert McGlaughlin; Prelate, Bert McConnell; Secretary, George Ivan Marker; Sergeant-at-arms, Clarence O'Neill; Inside Guard, G. W. Bauer; Outside Guard, William Scheultz; Trustees, George O'Dell, W. J. Farnsworth and Jos. Rothchild; Committee on Permanent Home, S. E. Walker, L. P. Gibson, and M. F. McDonough; Physicians, Drs. W. S. Pierce, Otis Brown and M. T. Smith.

"It was also decided last evening to hold a banquet soon at one of the leading hotels of the city, and to that end a committee was appointed consisting of C. A. Berger, Jos. Rothchild, Clarence O'Neill, Fred M. Hartman, and Edward Shriner.

"This new order moves off in an auspicious manner and the membership is one of which any organization could be proud. The Moose was organized in Louisville, Ky., in 1888, but has lain dormant for many years, although strength has been developed in the South and the West. The Order is now in progressive hands, and the various states of the Union are being organized. It has a total membership of about 125,000 and is growing rapidly. Pittsburgh has the largest Lodge of Moose in the country, and it also is the largest organization of any fraternal society in the world, having over 5,000 members.

Moose Degree Teams Will Compete Here

Shown here is the beautiful lodge room of the Warren Lodge of Moose at 221 Hickory street where 10 degree teams from area lodges will compete on Saturday, March 19, for the Degree championship of District 1. Restful relaxation is the theme carried out in this spacious parlor of the Warren Lodge of Moose at 221 Hickory street. The lodge, which has a membership of more than 1,000, will celebrate its 40th anniversary on Saturday and Sunday, March 19 and 20.

"The charter will be kept open until after the next meeting when it is expected that a degree team from Erie or some other city will be present and put on the work in an elaborate manner. The Moose are in Warren to stay, and they plan a live up-to-date organization."

The Loyal Order of Moose is a fraternal society international in its scope. Its principal fields of operation are the United States, Canada and the British Isles.

STEADY GROWTH
The growth in membership of the Loyal Order of Moose could never be qualified by the word "mushroom." In the instance of the fraternity, the growth has been gradual, vigorous and continuous. The reason: The Order, in its approach to prospects, has never appealed to prejudice, hatred, cupidity or class.

LODGE IS STRONG
The Loyal Order of Moose, though one of the youngest of the great fraternities of the world, is yet one of the strongest. Its gross assets total more than forty million dollars. Its greatest strength, however, lies in its ability to serve its members and their families when service is needed most.

PATRIOTIC
The Loyal Order of Moose is a mutually patriotic organization. It demands from each of its members unquestioned loyalty to the government of his country, and profound respect for its flag. It ever has been, and is, sternly opposed to every "ism" other than Americanism.

Chapter 27)
MARTINEZ was beckoning to him, from just beyond sight of the others. Don Fernando excused himself and followed Martinez to the deck.
"There," Martinez whispered, pointing to where a slave in the livery of the Montforts, stood with heaving lungs. "He is newly arrived from the city, with an urgent message, important news, for his masters. I thought that you should know—before them," he added, grinning.
"You did well," Don Fernando agreed, and studied the messenger. He was bathed in sweat, and seemed, despite his powerful stature, to be on the verge of exhaustion. Don Fernando poured a glass of wine and tendered it.
"Drink this," he said. "I will give you a message to Dikkon. What is it?"
The slave drank, hesitated, then gave the message.
"The master said it was most important. News had just reached the city. Louisiana has been sold to the Americans!"
"What's that?" Don Fernando gasped. "Louisiana? Sold to the Americans? It can't be!"
Don Fernando considered the possibilities of what this meant. His voice was strained.
"You haven't told anyone else—not on shore, nor along the way?"
"Tell no one. Bring message for the Montforts. I go now, tell them."
He tried to brush past Don Fernando, seeming worried that he had failed this much in his trust. It was a polite move, but all the excuse that Don Fernando required. He jerked his sword, lunged, and the messenger staggered back, his black face a mask of amazement and pain. Coughing, he sank to the deck, blood gushing as Don Fernando jerked his blade free.
"Quick!" he gasped. "Help me heave him overboard!"
Martinez's eyes were popping, but he obeyed. They lifted and heaved, there was a splash, then, moments later, a restless churning of the waters as several of the sluggish monsters were attracted.
"Pah!" Don Fernando exclaimed. "Have the blood wiped up."
"And now," Don Fernando began, thought himself aloud. "I must back to my guests. And what they do not know will hurt them! he reflected. No longer do I have need of you Montforts, since New Orleans is no longer French, and the river is open!"
No hint had reached him of Napoleon's intention to sell. But now the way was open to full profits. A quick run down river, past a city where no attempt would be made to stop him. The first one out with the stacked-up supplies, so that he could obtain top prices.
He returned to the cabin, his sword wiped clean again.
"I am entirely at your service," he said. "My suggestion is this, if it meets with your approval. That you, Dikkon, go ashore and explain that we have reached an agreement. The breeze is freshening, so I will get the ships as far as the river, and there anchor. Bashan, I believe, wishes to remain on board—for other work."
"And the sooner the better," Bashan growled. "But I will fight him—he will have his chance."
Dikkon hesitated, then nodded. He disliked the method, but he could not hold Bashan in check much longer. It would be a fight, which Don Fernando would see ended only one way. But in any case, it was a matter already decided by Don Fernando, and none of his business.
Instructing his officers to get the ships under way, Don Fernando went to the cabin where Rivers still slept. There, not without some effort, he shook him to wakefulness again.
Rivers sat up. His head ached, and he felt miserable. Reminded by sleep, he drank what Don Fernando thrust at him, which helped to clear his head.
"I've news that will bring you wide awake," Don Fernando assured him. "And don't blame me. It was you who insisted that we trade glasses!"
"You were too clever for me," Rivers grunted.
"I am always clever, my friend. And let me tell you what has happened. We have had visitors—Dikkon Montfort, and Bashan." He related what had happened, and of his own agreement. Under the stimulus of it, Rivers shook off some of the lethargy which gripped him.
"As for what they want, I intend to grant just one thing," Don Fernando added. "Bashan shall kill you, and welcome. You have preferred otherwise, but it's the best way. Once I reach the river, we keep moving. I have news—which, since you're soon to die, and Bashan after you, I'll confide to you. It's great news. New Orleans is no longer a stopper to the river!"
Rivers stared, not comprehending.
"Napoleon has sold Louisiana to the Americans," Don Fernando explained. "I can't say that I like it, though it serves me well for the moment. It's the sort of thing you'll approve, and a pity that you'll not live to benefit by it. He stepped back to the door, smiling.
"Farewell, my friend. I go out—and Bashan will come in. You have your sword—go your best with it. And let it comfort you that, whichever one of you manages to survive, Martinez will be on watch to use his pistol on the one remaining. I doubt that you can long face Bashan in your present condition, but I'm sure Martinez hopes it will be you to take his lead at the last! He has a healthy hate for you, does Martinez?"

Spring At Metzger-Wright's Despite The Winter Weather

Despite the winter weather, it was spring last evening at Metzger-Wright's at its 53rd spring opening. The entire store was replete in its spring dress from the basement through the fourth floor. A new shade "Empire Beige" was presented in all the fashion department this is a soft cocoa brown shade which was worn during the empire era. This was carried out in all displays either as the main theme or as a complementary shade in accessories.

Entering the store, one was intrigued with the display of cosmetics each fragrance in perfume having its matching flower, lovely in every detail. The new shades in hosiery, which one found to be much lighter than those worn during the winter, were artfully displayed with jewelry, shoes, and handbags in spring patterns and designs. If one did not already see the new shades in hosiery, one saw the new fabrics, especially the iridescent silks and the "soap water" fabrics in such soft shades. Exquisite linens drew much interest from the homelover.

The men's department came in for its share of interest from both men and women. Here one found the new pastel shades in shirts, ties, and even in shorts were going

PENNSYLVANIA NEEDS EQUALITY WITH SURROUNDING STATES!

The Pennsylvania Trade Barrier

The above map shows the gross weight restrictions of Pennsylvania and surrounding states for tractor and tandem axle semi-trailers.

The following table gives the maximum weight allowances in pounds for tractor and single axle semi-trailers:

STATE	Tractor and Single Axle Semi-trailer
Pennsylvania	45,000
New York	52,800
New Jersey	60,000
Maryland	52,800
Ohio	44,000
Delaware	48,000
West Virginia	52,000

These restrictions mean that truck cargoes in Pennsylvania are limited to 25,000 pounds, because the unloaded weight of the vehicles is about 20,000 pounds. Meanwhile, surrounding states permit cargoes of 30,000 pounds and more on tractor and single axle semi-trailers, and 40,000-pound cargoes and more on tractor and tandem axle semi-trailers, which have an extra axle at the rear of the trailer.

These vehicles are no larger or heavier, in fact they are smaller, than others, such as the truck and full trailer combinations, which have been permitted to carry gross loads of 62,000 pounds on the highways of Pennsylvania for the past 20 years. However, they are more efficient and economical, have greater motive power to provide more uniform speeds, and better braking capacity to assure greater safety.

What Does It Mean to You?

Like a Chinese wall, the old restrictions are keeping new business out of Pennsylvania. Furthermore, when shippers in bordering states can transport 20 to 30% more cargo on a truck than Pennsylvania allows, that advantage makes Pennsylvania industry and agriculture lose markets.

In these days of marginal profits, transportation costs assume a new and vital importance. If the Pennsylvania manufacturer cannot meet New Jersey competition in a New York market, it's because the New Jersey competition can ship by trucks which carry 60,000-pound gross loads, while the Pennsylvania truck is limited to a gross weight of 45,000 pounds.

A 30% margin means a lot! It loses money for Pittsburgh steel, for Central Pennsylvania fruits and vegetables, for Philadelphia dairy products and clothing. To you, Mr. and Mrs. Consumer, it means that everything you eat, wear and use costs more!

What Should Be Done About It?

HB-560, now being considered by the Pennsylvania Legislature, would modify Pennsylvania's horse and buggy truck law by increasing weights within the present maximums. It would permit 50,000 pounds gross on a tractor and single axle semi-trailer, instead of 45,000 pounds, and allow the tractor and tandem axle semi-trailer to carry the same gross weight as the truck and full trailer has been allowed to carry for the past 20 years, namely 62,000 pounds.

Passage of this bill would break the transportation bottleneck hampering Pennsylvania farmers and business men, and give them a fighting chance to survive in competition with those in surrounding states.

American 'Blockade' Lifted

Col. Sterling A. Wood, right, provost marshal of Frankfurt, Germany, watches the Soviet Repatriation Mission drive out of the mansion in which it had been "blockaded" for 48 hours. The eight men were ordered to leave Frankfurt by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, but refused to do so until they received orders from Moscow. In retaliation for their expulsion, the Soviet government ordered all American graves registration teams to leave the Russian zone of Germany.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

LOOK FOR WAYS TO MAKE AN OVERTICK

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service

One of the interesting personalities in bridge circles in New York City is Arthur Jarmel, who was written up recently in Family Circle Magazine. Jarmel is a public accountant. His father's banking business took him to Hamburg, Germany, and it was there that Arthur was born.

The family came back to the United States in 1910. Arthur, of course, was an American citizen and served in the armed forces for 18 months during World War I. He has a pet theory in living, namely, that it is more important to build human beings than to build structures or machinery.

Arthur takes bridge very seriously and plays in a great many tournaments. His contract on today's hand was four spades, but that did not stop him from trying to make an extra trick.

West's opening lead of the six of diamonds was won by East with the nine-spade. East returned the jack of diamonds, which west trumped with the four of spades.

West now led back the three of hearts. Jarmel won this trick in dummy with the ace of hearts.

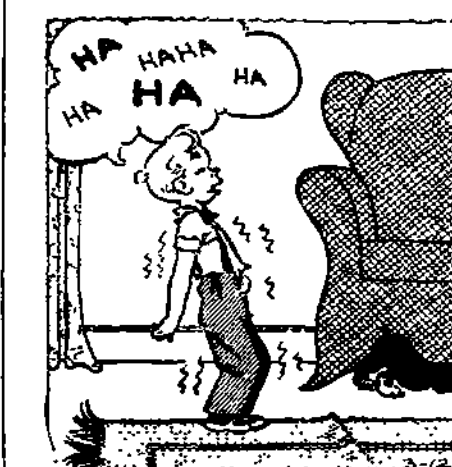

He then led a spade from dummy and took the finesse. Now he laid down the ace of spades and dropped the king. A diamond was led to dummy's ace and a diamond ruffed in Jarmel's hand, which established a good diamond in dummy on which he was able to discard his losing heart.

Improvements At Vets' Club Are Complete

The Veterans Club of Warren announces that it has completed a series of improvements to the social and post rooms that were started last year. Several thousand dollars were expended for a new walk-in cooler, bottle coolers and ice cube making equipment.

Both floors of the social rooms have been redecorated and new circular fluorescent lighting fixtures have been installed in the dance hall, the VFW Post meeting rooms on the fifth floor, and the meeting rooms completely redecorated.

Officers and members of the organization are well pleased with the improvements which make the club home one of the finest in the state.

A St. Patrick's Day party will be held on March 17 to celebrate the progress that has been made.

School Board At Youngsville Has Meeting

A testimonial dinner in honor of Noyd Engstrom, recently resigned as secretary of Youngsville Board of Education was announced by the board at its March meeting last evening. The dinner will be held on March 24 in the Home Economics building and will mark the termination of 24 years of service by Mr. Engstrom. His resignation was occasioned by ill health.

Routine business occupied the main attention of the board last evening when $380 in bills was ordered paid. Gurney Hall tax collector, reported $215.51 in February collections.

The cafeteria report showed 2041 Type A lunches served during February and 1768 Type C consisting of milk only. Income from the cafeteria was $1635.14 with expenses of $1675.06. The slight deficit for the month was explained by the fact that a quantity of dishes and kitchen equipment had been purchased. A substantial profit on the year's operation was shown.

The library report showed a total of 2822 volumes as of the end of February and stated that many books have been repaired by student librarians. The average circulation from the library is 1200 monthly.

Permission was granted for one or more teachers to attend a meeting of social studies teachers at Edinboro State Teachers College on April 7. The Warren Electric Cooperative was also granted use of the high school auditorium for its annual meeting on Monday, May 16 at a rental of $15.

Superintendent Principal Paul Gelfs presented a tentative budget for 1949-1950 and stated work of preparing the final copy will be started at once. Final figures will be reached when it is known what this session of the legislature is going to do with several bills now under consideration.

Following the formal business meeting the board went into executive session to discuss salaries and contracts for the next school year.
